

HEAVEN ON EARTH

On the banks of Shipra river there was big city Rangavati. The king Lakshmipati was just and like his father looked after his people. His queen Kamalavati was also kind and generous. The people use to love them as their mother and father, but still the queen did not have any child. One evening king Lakshmipati of Rangavati city was sitting in the balcony of his palace and his queen asked—

My lord, there is only one unfulfilled wish that tortures me. After you who will inherit this kingdom and rule over it?

Darling, as the God wishes.

This exchange made them gloomy.

That night the queen was sleeping on the open roof of the palace. Everything was glowing in the soothing moonlight. The sky was filled with twinkling stars. A cool breeze was blowing. The scenic beauty filled the queen with joy.

In such blissful atmosphere if I meditate on the Panch Parameshthi Namokar Mantra it would magnify my joy.

She sat up and started meditating in the lotus pose.

Just then, king Lakshmipati came. He saw the queen meditating and sat waiting on the bed. Suddenly he sneezed and the meditation of the queen was broken.

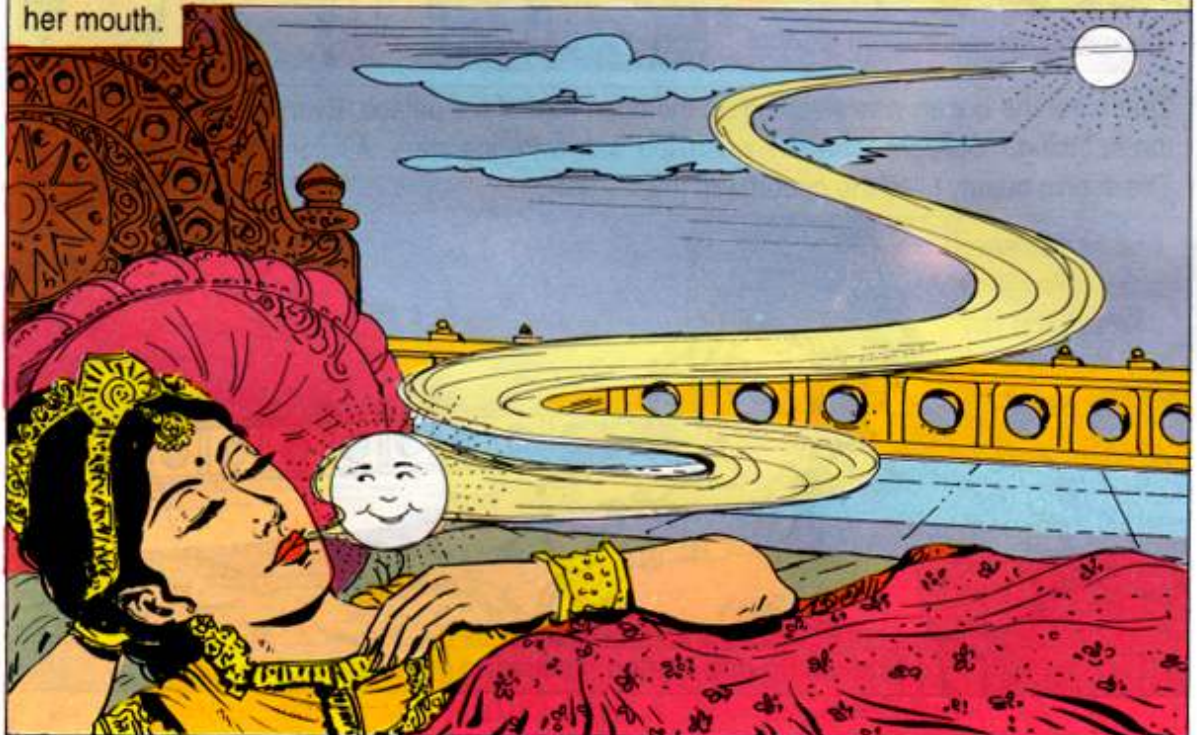

A few moments back. Finding you deep in meditation, I also sat to enjoy the beauty of the moonlit night.

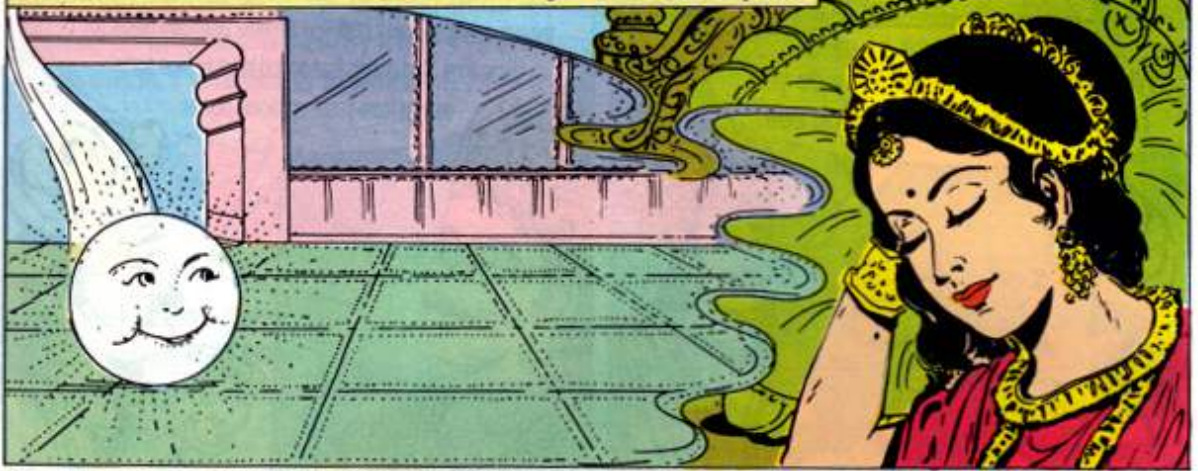

After chatting for some time they went to sleep.

Later, the queen dreamt that the full moon was descending from the sky and entering her mouth.

After that, she saw the same moon, with a smiling face, in the courtyard.

In excitement, the queen opened her eyes—

Was it a dream?
How strange was this experience?

In the morning the queen told the king about the dream. The king said with joy—

Darling, it seems that your long cherished desire is going to be fulfilled.

The queen blushed.

The king summoned an astrologer and told him about the dream. The astrologer took out his books, made a chart and after calculations said—

Sire! Soon the queen will give birth to a son. He will become a great warrior, scholar of augury and many other astounding subjects.
But. ....
